The Editor's Dilemma

Getting out a newspaper is fun, but it is no picnic.

If we print jokes, people say we are silly.

If we don't they say we are too serious.

If we don't print contributions, we don't appreciate true genius.

If we do print them, the page is filled with junk.

Like as not, someone will say we swiped this from some other newspaper. We did.

NATIONAL PARK FILMS TELEVIEWED

A new development in visual education dealing with wildlife in Canada's national parks took place in Washington, DC, recently when films showing beaver in Prince Albert National Park, Saskatchewan, were televised from the United States Capitol. Some of the beaver shown were "Little Brothers" of the Jay Guy Owl who occupied a cabin on the shores of Ajaawan Lake in the park. The films depict beaver building dams and houses, and storing food for the winter.

Television opens up an important field in the realm of wildlife education. The family life and habits of wild creatures in their native habitat, always make fascinating reading. But to actually see a beaver at work, a bear playing with her cubs, or an ungainly moose browsing in the willows, adds immensely to the interest of the story.

Children, and grown-ups, too, who have not yet had an opportunity to visit Canada's national parks may derive a keener appreciation of the word "sanctuary" when they observe wild creatures behaving in a natural manner before the camera, little perturbed by the presence of humans. They also get a better understanding of conservation practices which are part of the national parks idea and purposes.

Most people are intrigued by the sight of creatures of the wild living in natural surroundings. Canada's great outdoor museums of wildlife will continue to rank among her chief tourist attractions, and any new development that will make them better known in the United States is of special interest to Canadians.

The televising of films depicting wildlife in Canada's national parks will also further emphasize the fact that the only kind of "shooting" permitted in these areas is with the camera.

SEVERAL "LEAFS"

FORMER SCOUTS

When Howie Meeker, of the Toronto Maple Leafs, recently visited a Toronto Scout Troop and answered questions about hockey players, it was learned that several of the Leaf players are former Scouts. Syd Apps was a Scout in Paris, Ontario; Gus Morrison was a Cub and Scout in Kirkland Lake, Syd Smith was a Scout at Essex Street school in Toronto and Meeker was a Scout in Kitchener.

SKIM MILK

Pounding for pound, skim milk contains as much protein, a little more carbohydrate and as much calcium, phosphorus, iron, the B vitamins, and vitamin C, as whole milk. Nutrition authorities at Ottawa suggest, therefore, that, when the budget won't stretch to whole milk for the whole family, skim milk provides an excellent substitute in part.

"A Man Under Authority", will be the subject of the sermon at Central United church on Sunday evening next. The girls choir will render special music at this service which should be of special interest to young people. Everyone cordially invited to be present.

The trio charged with armed robbery at Blairmore on Feb. 28, also at Lethbridge on the same date, came up for preliminary trial at the local courthouse yesterday, and after a day-long session were committed to higher court. Earlier in the week at Lethbridge they were committed to higher court on the Lethbridge charge.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

April 3—M. A. Murphy was a week end visitor to Lethbridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Lou's Pellet are moving into their newly purchased home this week which is undergoing extensive repair work and when completed, will brighten up that section of town.

Mrs. Willard Dwyer and family of Pincher Creek have returned home following a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Dwyer.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Niumann and their small son Kennedy, of Twin Butte paid a visit at the parental home of Mr. and Mrs. M.A. Murphy over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Fortier returned home on Sunday from an extended trip through the western United States. They travelled by car and report a splendid trip all through.

Easter services were held and the Lord's Supper observed in the Anglican church on Sunday morning last with Rev. Mr. Cyril Clarke in charge.

T. Lapointe has returned home from Calgary where he was a patient for several weeks in the Holy Cross hospital, undergoing three major operations. Friends will be glad to learn that Mr. Lapointe is regaining his health.

We are glad to inform the public that our town and its residents are emerging now the worse from this long hard winter which piled the snowdrifts so high that it was impossible to gossip over back fences, and could only chat with the neighbors by making honest-to-goodness visits from house to house with a friendly cup of tea thrown in for good measure.

Paul Potapoff and Leola Pellet have had their residences recently wired for the use of electrical power.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Feller have bought a house in Bellevue and will be moving to their new home very shortly. Mr. Feller has been employed at Bellevue all winter.

Mrs. Sam Cornie (nee Mac-Poulson) of Morrin has returned home following a visit with relatives and friends in the district.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Ryan and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rutherford and two small daughters of Pincher Creek were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cochran on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Day, who are moving shortly with their family of four young daughters to make their home on a farm which they recently purchased in the Clareholm district, were feted on Friday night, March 28, when a party sponsored by the Alberta Farmers Union was held in their honor. Entertainment took the form of cards, progressive whist being in order with prizes being won by Mrs. Pellet and Mrs. M. A. Poulson for the ladies with guests going to John Musgrave and Stanley Snyder. After a sumptuous luncheon was served the honor guests were presented with splendid gifts to Mrs. Day a double aluminum cooker and to Mr. Day a useful tool set. The evening enjoyment was concluded in a lively dance. A large crowd was in attendance.

The weatherman has been kind to us this week with a mild spell wearing down our huge snowdrifts and drying up our streets and highways. Spring is here again, most of the migratory birds have returned, the friendly quack quack of wild geese and ducks and the sweet song of birds is heard in the land once more, the heart of man rejoices in the awakening of renewed life and when all nature is in tune, we appreciate our many blessings with the assurance that all is well.

April 10—Mrs. M. A. Murphy was a week end visitor to Cranbrook, B.C. After residing on a ranch in the Porcupine Hills district for a couple

NOT TRAINING SCOUTS AS "BOBBIES"

British Scouts are not being trained as policemen, it is pointed out by A. W. Huill, general secretary of the Boy Scouts Association at Imperial headquarters, commenting on a recent press report to this effect.

"The report as set out is a gross misrepresentation of facts. What has, in fact, happened is that in several of the larger cities and towns of England, courses have been run with the co-operation of the Chief Constable as a part of the senior Scouts' training in citizenship."

"The idea of these courses," states Mr. Huill, "is to show how police forces operate and point out how the average citizen can help in the prevention of crime. There has been no idea of making the Scouts into junior police forces and it is stressed that these courses were more in the nature of demonstrations than training courses."

CREeping DISEASE

Sudden death is a product of war and accident, but National Health authorities point out that disease, which causes many more deaths, ensues upon humanity stealthily, through disability and sickness.

Since disease enters when physical resistance is low, exploiting carelessness and neglect, the doctors urge constant vigilance to ward off health hazards and maintain the stamina and freedom from infection essential to survival.

Sunday evening at 7.30 in the United church the Blairmore United church choir of thirty mixed voices will present the Easter cantata, "King Triumphant", under the leadership of Mr. J. Boorman. You are invited to be present and enjoy this musical treat.—Pincher Creek Echo.

of years Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Mahieux have returned to Blairmore where they will reside in future.

Mrs. D. M. McRae, of Calgary, Mrs. Bradford Turfian, of Gleichen, and Miss Helen Morrison, of Calgary, paid parental visits at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Tustian and Mr. and Mrs. H.C. Morrison over Easter week end.

Mrs. Griffith Parry returned home on Sunday from a two week visit at Tacoma, Washington.

The ladies A of the United church was entertained at their monthly meeting by Mrs. Eddie Smyth at her home on Wednesday afternoon, April 2. After routine business was dismissed Mrs. Leale Day who will be leaving shortly with her family to take up residence in her new home at Clareholm, was feted when the members of the Aid gave her a lovely hand-forged aluminum cake plate with Mrs. Della Snyder making the presentation speech to which the honor guest responded with well chosen words. An especially prepared luncheon was enjoyed in a pleasant table-d'cote over the tea cups. In spite of very bad roads there was a fair turnout.

On Thursday afternoon, April 3, an Easter party was staged in the junior room of the village school under the supervision of the teacher, Mrs. Peter Iwanuk, when the pupils of the entire room, their teachers and parents and friends were invited guests, all of whom enjoyed a well prepared program of singing and dialogues by the junior pupils. Prizes were awarded to pupils receiving the highest marks in each class, covering the month's work, and all the small children of pre-school age were each given a chocolate Easter egg. The party was concluded with an appetizing repast that was enjoyed to the utmost.

Health LEAGUE OF CANADA presents TOPICS OF VITAL INTEREST

It has been said that teeth are like wives. Neglect them and you are headed for trouble.

That's worth remembering, for tooth health has its effect on the entire body. A decayed tooth if neglected may lead to chronic, serious or even fatal illness.

Authorities say that candy, sugar, cakes, pastry (the refined carbohydrate foods) seem to be the greatest sources of food decay. Such foods should be used in strict moderation. On the other hand uncooked foods such as green vegetables, raw fruits and dairy products, are good for the teeth. They are rich in mineral elements. Meat, eggs and whole wheat products also are needed.

After diet comes exercise. Teeth need exercise to be healthy. Vigorous chewing does the trick.

Cleanliness is most important, too. So, remember—

Teeth should be brushed after every meal.

Use a small toothbrush with well-separated bristle tufts.

Dental floss or cotton thread drawn between teeth helps to remove food particles.

Upper teeth should be brushed downward, lower teeth upward.

Brush vigorously top surface of back teeth.

Mouth should be washed out with clean water.

Periodic examinations by a dentist are essential—twice a year at least.

Pair Described As "Selfish" Gave Away $80,000,000

HOUSTON, Tex.—Hugh Roy and Lillie Cullen, describing themselves as selfish people, gave away $80,000,000 recently. The money will be used to establish a foundation for the purpose of aiding educational, medical and charitable institutions. Cullen said they were giving their money because "We are both that selfish that we wish to see our money spent during our lifetime, so that we may derive great pleasure from it."

Mr. and Mrs. Cullen's gift is in the form of oil properties containing some 30,000,000 to 40,000,000 barrels of oil, estimated to be worth $210 a barrel.

Rommel's Fortune Vanished In Tunisia

MILAN. — A 10,000,000,000 lira (more than $44,000,000) desert army hoard of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel, Hitler's desert commander, has vanished from a sand dune in Tunisia, it was reported.

The Milan evening paper Milan Sera quoted a returned Italian prisoner, Vincenzo Lana of Verona, as saying that when the landing of Allied troops in Tunisia was imminent, retreating German soldiers hid the desert army money in a gasoline tank. The tank then was buried under a sand dune.

The newspaper said Lana, later taken prisoner by British forces and repatriated when the war ended, obtained permission to land in Tunisia with French officials.

But on arrival in Tunisia, the newspaper said, the treasure was not in its hiding place.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Canada's unemployment insurance balance at the end of last year amounted to $362,083,781, the Labor Department announced.

Prince Philip of Greece has been granted British naturalization under the name of Philip Mountbatten, the London Gazette announced.

Administration of food and agriculture in the British and American zones of Germany has been transferred to German hands.

Increased value payments to bombed-out Britons which will cost the treasury an additional $50,000,000 ($200,000,000) were approved by the commons.

Likelihood of an increase in the price of milk distributed in British Columbia, was forecast by Agriculture Minister Frank Putnam.

External Affairs Minister St. Laurent announced that Canada plans to build two low-frequency, long-range radar stations in her far-north this summer as aids to aerial and marine navigation.

Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd said that New Zealand plans a South Polar scientific expedition and has invited American scientists to co-operate in projects there.

A prize of $330 ($1,320) was awarded a London architect who designed a new-type shelter which will be installed at bus stops as soon as it can be manufactured.

Letters and letter packages up to one pound in weight can now be mailed to any destination in Germany, the postal department has announced. Air mail as well as surface mail service is provided.

Drastic Way To Ensure Easy Win

Ireland's Saturday Night says two countrymen at a fair approached a stall where little balls bobbed about on top of water jets. One tried his skill with the rifle but could not pot the bobbing balls.

"Let's have a shot," said his friend, and, taking the rifle, fired. Every ball dropped.

As they walked away, the unsuccessful one said, "That was good. How did you manage it? Will?"

"Easy," replied Will. "I shot the man who was working the pump!"

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

"GYPSY GOLD"

By LILLIAN M. MITCHELL

"Gosh, Julie! You are easy—giving that gypsy gold a five dollar bill for that! Gypsy gold! If that's gold, I'm a busy blonde. But if it should turn the trick, let me have it next, eh?"

Julie Davis nodded. "I didn't buy it from the gypsy. I just crossed her palm with gold—and that in the old days would have been five dollars. But it won't do all the work. She said to do all I could myself and then leave the rest to gypsy gold. Well, me, I'm going downstairs to the drug store and buy a big bottle of perfume and Anthony—he does like fragrance, Cordelia. Men do."

"Shure. Men do. Even rich fellows like Anthony who waste three years of a gal's time. I give up. He likes you. He has plenty to marry on. But maybe you've let things drag. A girl has to help some, you know."

Julie looked out the office window. "Yes, I've just waited. Of course it wouldn't be any use to run after Anthony. He wouldn't have one of those bold girls. But me—I haven't done a thing to get him to the point. I'm going out this noon, Cordy, and get a big bottle of that May Dawn perfume and a new hat and new gloves and shoes and a snippy little collar and cuff set."

"Say! You're going to spend all your savings?" asked Cordelia. "I am, Cordy. I'm going to make every effort myself and leave it to gypsy gold to do the rest just as the gypsy girl told me."

At five that night Julie was prompt in leaving the office. Because it was raining, the other girls all stayed at their desks a few minutes to put everything in order. Julie, though, tripped gaily out of the elevator and towards the magazine counter of the office building entirely aware of her new coat and shoes and gloves, her nose well aware of the expensive perfume that surrounded her like an aura.

"You don't look as if the weather had you 'downed,' Julie," Anthony greeted her in amazement. "You've been the only smiling face to come out of any elevator in the ten minutes I've been waiting. Kind of doped up, aren't you? Want a cab?" But as usual on rainy nights, no cab was to be had and so, shoulder to shoulder, they walked along cheerily until they came to a sidewalk grating that permitted a basement fan to get air. The heels of the new shoes slid unexpectedly between the metal strips.

"Oooh-oh!" screamed Julie. "Anthony, both arms about her firmly, held her upright. 'I have you, Julie. You're not hurt, are you? You didn't turn your ankle?' Julie shook her head and stood her ground firmly, her eyes searching down in that dark space beneath the sidewalk grating. 'I'm all right but I lost my gypsy gold piece," she said disconsolately.

He laughed. "Well, if that's all you lost, that's nothing!" "Nothing?" she eyed him wide-eyed. "Nothing? Why Tony, it's everything, that gold piece. It's gypsy gold, Tony."

"Well, there's no way of getting down in there to get it, Baby. This grating is in for keeps and there's no opening in the basement except the ventilator fan. Come on."

Julie shook her head stubbornly. "I'll have to get down and fish it out again, Tony. I—I just have to get my gypsy gold."

"Obviously he got down on all fours and peered down into the dark hole. He borrowed an umbrella from a passerby and poked the glittering gold piece this way and that fruitlessly. Then the passerby with a glance at his watch said he must get along and Anthony returned the umbrella.

"Come on, Julie," he said coaxingly. "We can't get the thing out. It's in there for keeps. Come on, dear." Julie only shook her head. "I—I paid five dollars for it, Tony. That is I didn't really pay five dollars but I crossed the gypsy's hand with gold before she gave it to me. I—I have to have it, Tony."

"Well, great suffering cats!" he exploded turning up his coat collar, "if this thing was so darned valuable to you, why didn't you put it into your handbag instead of carrying it out loose in your glove! And such slippery gloves, too."

"Glace," murmured Julie softly, her eye seemingly glued to the gold piece below.

"Mister, we'll get the thing if you'll give us a half dollar for the job," said two newbys.

"Go to it, kids," said Anthony. "I'll make it a dollar if you're done in five minutes."

Speedily the boys thrust chewing gum into their mouths, grinning at each other they put the damp gum on the end of a long stick and poked.

"You're a useless little thing," Anthony said huskily to Julie as they waited and watched.

She turned her eyes up to his. "Gee, you're a honey," he told her. "You smell so sweet and fragrant and you're such a little useless—losing that gold piece like that! What you need, Baby, is someone to look after you and your possessions. Suppose I hadn't been along now? Julie, Baby, are you going to give me the job?"

"That job?" she asked him gently. "Or being your husband and looking after everything for you," he murmured.

She nodded meekly at the same moment the little boys handed Anthony the gold piece. He gave them a dollar and looked curiously at the gypsy gold.

"That girl sure skinned you, Baby," he told her. "This is just brass, common brass."

She held out her hand for it smilingly. "Gypsy gold," she said. "The gypsy told me it was. Oh, hello, Cordy, dear! What? My eyes look bright? Do they? Here, Cordy, is that piece of gypsy gold you wanted. I don't need it any more, you see." "Well, I'll be confounded!" ejaculated Anthony in amazement as Cordelia passed along the wet street with the gypsy gold in her pocket. "I didn't know I was getting it for her! I never especially liked her anyhow. I thought I was getting it for you, Baby. What's that? You don't need it? Well, girls are certainly hard to understand, I'll say. There's only one thing that is easy to understand and that is you need me to take care of you, Julie. When do I get the job, eh?"

And Julie, blissfully unaware that the new coat was damp and the pretty collar set already crumpled, looked up at him, the fragrant odor of its work was yet to be done instead of already accomplished.

Deer Will Dance If Provided Music

Good Advice On Care Of Piano

Piano experts warn against keeping your instrument near any heating unit or in the direct rays of the sun. Like any fine furniture, the wood surface needs occasional cleaning to remove all accumulated wax and polish. Use a soapy cloth, well wrung out, and follow with a damp cloth wrung out of clear water and covering only a small area at a time when you work. Then wipe completely dry before applying new wax or polish. A small bag of camphor hung inside the piano helps prevent moths from destroying the felts. Have your instrument tuned and checked by a good service man at least once a year.

Northern Airports Will Be Valuable

Only yesterday it seemed that places like Southampton Island, Frobius Bay, Goose Bay and Gander were destined always to remain lonely outposts, to be reached from "outside" only during the brief summer. But tomorrow—sooner than we think—they may be division points along one of the world's main traffic routes. While these northern airports are certainly no bargain just now from a commercial point of view, they are far from valueless national assets even today. And they may well become self-liquidating in the commercial sense before many years pass—Winnipeg Tribune.

SILKWORMS IN CEYLON

Experiments in raising Indian silkworms were made in Ceylon in 1944 by an expert, just back from work at the Government Silk Farm in Mysore, India. Since then silkworm eggs have been distributed there to 45 volunteers who report good progress with cocoons and silk. Meanwhile, one Ceylon textile centre is already training some of its students in the reeling of silk for which machinery is to be imported from India.

The success of the first silkworm trials encourages the Ceylon Department of Commerce and Industries to think that the silkworm industry can be profitably carried on there in village homes. At present the chief hindrance is the shortage of mulberry leaves.

Ceylon has before its eyes, the example of India, where mulberry silkworms in peace-time supply the silk for the brilliant saris worn by the women, and in wartime for Allied parachutes and other uses.

MEAT NOT ENOUGH

Meat and most alternates are the most costly food items, yet nutrition surveys in two provinces revealed to National Health authorities that nearly all the children surveyed were getting ample amounts of meat. On the other hand vegetables, except for potatoes, were neglected by almost half.

Nutrition experts point out that vegetables, particularly the vivid green and yellow ones, contain a variety of vitamins and minerals essential to well-rounded diets, and urge parents to encourage children to eat vegetables.

The young candidate for admission to the Navy was being given a test to determine his general knowledge. One of the questions put to him was "What kind of animals eat grass?" The young man fidgeted and looked uneasy, but apparently could think of no answer.

"Come, come," said the Admiral who was examining him, "surely you can answer a simple question like that! What kind of animals eat grass?"

The boy brightened up. "Animals!" he exclaimed. "I thought you said animals!"—Wall Street Journal.

A National Outlook

A GREAT DEAL HAS BEEN HEARD in Canada in recent years concerning the need for strengthening the bonds of unity between the provinces and promoting the growth of a truly national outlook. In a country where distances are as great as they are here, and where the climate and the nature of the land vary greatly in different localities, it is to be expected that there should be a tendency towards sectionalism and that national problems should be more numerous than in a more compact country. It could not be said that there is any great degree of intolerance among the people of Canada today, nor that there is a serious lack of national unity. However, anything which can be done to destroy such intolerance as does exist, and to promote unity of thought and purpose should receive public encouragement and support.

Would Promote National Unity

At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the Canadian Teacher's Federation a resolution was passed asking the collaboration of the Canadian Education Association in establishing a teacher's certificate which would be acceptable to all the provinces. This motion will come up for consideration at the annual convention of the Canadian Teacher's Federation in Halifax next August. Miss Ethel Cappington of Saskatoon, president, said that the federation would like to see the establishment of a standard of teacher training high enough to meet the requirements of all the provinces. It would appear that such a move should do much to improve the standard of education throughout the country and to promote a broader outlook among both teachers and pupils. At the present time, because of the fact that teacher's certificates are acceptable only in the province in which they are issued, there is relatively little movement of teachers from one section of the country to another.

Education Is A Powerful Force

There is no place where there is greater opportunity for planting the seeds of tolerance and understanding than in the school room, and standardization of teacher training should help to encourage the same. Many educationalists are of the opinion that efforts should also be made to eliminate the differences in curriculum between the school systems of the nine provinces. Such an undertaking would be beset by many difficulties, but like the standardization of teacher's qualifications it would undoubtedly do much to promote understanding and to further Canadian unity in the years to come. Education is a powerful force in the building of any nation. In some parts of Canada too little interest and support have been given to the building of proper schools and to such matters as the training of teachers and the provision of adequate salaries for them. We are now in what is called a period of reconstruction, and it would be well to give a share of our attention to education at this time, and to encourage any efforts which are made to increase the contribution which our schools make to the welfare of the nation.

GARDEN NOTES

Most For Your Space
Where the vegetable garden is small, big growing things like corn, peas, tomatoes, potatoes and other large vegetables create a special problem. Unlike lettuce, spinach, beets, beans, carrots, etc., which can be fitted into rows only 12 to 15 inches apart, if necessary, these others take up twice or more than that room. Corn, tomatoes and potatoes need from 18 inches to 2 feet between hills or plants, and if one is to have enough green peas for a meal from each picking, there must be 30 feet of row and preferably 50 feet, will be necessary.

Those gardeners with only a plot 20 feet or so each way usually decide after some experience to abandon potato growing altogether. There are other things that take up less room and yield far more. The other three vegetables mentioned, however, should not be given up without more consideration. The quality of peas and corn right out of the garden cannot be duplicated. A distinct change takes place in both vegetables in from two to four hours after picking, the sugars changing to starches.

Thinning Is Important
After the first seeds are started the major job is thinning and spacing. This is vital work and applies to either flowers or vegetables. Crowded flowers will grow thin and spindly, will not bloom freely and the biggest plants will topple over in the first storm. They should have half as much room between as they will grow tall. This means about 4 to 5 inches for things like nasturtiums, less for alyssum, much more for tall marigolds, cosmos or spider plants.

With the smaller vegetables a couple of inches between plants is sufficient. This applies to leaf lettuce, early carrots, beets, etc. Beans and peas should have from 4 to 6 inches between plants, and as the seed usually germinates it should be planted about this far apart. Rows should be from 15 inches to 2 feet apart. Corn is usually planted 3 to 6 seeds to a hill, about 18 inches apart each way, or rows to 5 feet apart. Tomato plants require at least 18 inches each way, melons, squash and cucumbers three plants to a hill and hills about 2 to 3 feet apart.

Special Flowers
Listed in any good seed catalogue will be flowers that fit special locations. Some like portulaca do best in blazing sun and poor soil, some like damp spots, a large number prefer partial shade and a few actually thrive best in a dark corner. The tuberous rooted begonia is in this class and it produces brilliant flowers when planted in any layout it is well to note special characteristics.

Sea oranges are animals. They belong to the sponge family and are found in the Gulf of Maine.

MOUNTED POLICE SEEKING BANDSMEN FOR MUSICAL RIDE

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police is reviving its musical-ride feature and Inspector J. T. Brown, director of music, is on a recruiting mission to bring the R.C.M.P. band to authorized strength of 46 musicians.

Practices for the musical ride have already started at Rockcliffe Barracks after a call had been issued for volunteers for the "band" from the personnel of the force. A full complement of candidates has been obtained and both men and horses are already in training. The post-war revival of the ride will mean the return of the feature of a number of exhibitions and horse shows later this year.

The R.C.M.P. band is slated to make a number of appearances at fairs in both Canada and the United States.

FOOD RIOT IN DUSSELDORF

A food riot is being staged by 100,000 in Dusseldorf, one of the most heavily bombed cities in Germany. It is not an uncommon sight to see soup lines or a child, such as the one above, begging for food on the streets. British tomatoes were hooped and a military car was overthrown in the lake by the mob which gathered in a public park to protest the lack of food. The daily ration is far below the Canadian standard.

SELECTED RECIPES

PIE CRUST HELPS

For each 2-crust pie allow:
2 1/2 cups sifted flour
1/4 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup cold water (about)
1/2 cup cold shortening
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together into bowl. Cut in shortening until pieces are about the size of small peas. Use two knives or a wire pastry blender for this.

Add water, a small amount at a time, mixing lightly with a fork. Press into a ball. Cover and chill before rolling.

Roll out on a lightly floured board to 1/4-inch thickness. Bake pastry in a hot oven (450° F.). Makes enough for one 9-inch 2-crust pie or two 8-inch shells.

1. Keep pastry cold if you want it flaky.

2. Handle and roll as little as possible.

3. Roll lightly, using as little flour as possible. Roll from the centre of the dough out and up—not back and forth. Let the rolling pin do the work.

4. If you can, use pastry cloths over the board and rolling pin. These hold the rolled pastry and lessen the amount of flour and rolling needed.

5. Try making unbaked pie shell the day before filling and baking. Pastry will be more crisp.

6. You can make up 2-crust pies ahead of time and bake them fresh for evening or even on the next day.

SEASON FOR DUCK HUNTING MAY BE SHORTENED THIS FALL

OTTAWA.—Canadian hunters will be able to go duck-hunting this fall despite a National Audubon society proposal in Washington for a one-year moratorium on hunting of migratory fowl in North America.

However, officials of the wild life protection division, mines and resources department, warn that the duck situation is becoming "rapidly worse."

The season "probably" will be shorter than last year and the "bag" reduced.

The department is awaiting reports on the winter's bird survey, upon which to base the quotas and length of season for 1947. Annual regulations are announced in July.

In January, 1946, there were an estimated 80,000,000 ducks in Canada compared with 105,000,000 for the corresponding period of the previous year. During the war when hunters were few, the duck population jumped to 140,000,000.

Last year's count of geese in Canada was approximately 1,500,000, a drop from some 500,000 from 1945.

Female Racketeers Pose As Servants

VANCOUVER.—The public relations department of the Unemployment Insurance Commission reported that female racketeers, posing as domestic servants, have been cheating housewives of considerable sums of money.

The women, who claim they are "recommended by Selective Service," apply for a job and ask for an advance of wages, officials said. Many householders have advanced as much as $25, and they see no more of the so-called household worker.

Canadian Beauties To Compete For "Miss America"

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J.—Beauties from nine provinces of Canada and from Mexico will compete for the first time this September in the annual Miss America beauty pageant.

The board of directors of the pageant said the new entrants would bring the field to about 60, making it the largest in the pageant's history.

More Profits For Livestock Producers Seen

BRANDON, Man.—Agriculture Minister Gardiner said that even at the present prices for coarse grains western farmers could make more money by feeding their grain to livestock than by selling it.

He told a service club luncheon that the government "could have coerced western farmers into producing more livestock products by keeping down the returns for their grain" even below the present level and "increasing the returns for livestock. But we are not coercing him to do anything."

Mr. Gardiner said he realized that farmers did not have the labor to feed stock, but western producers of feed grain were entitled to their increase whether they desired to make more money by feeding hogs or not.

In order to prevent surplus production in Canada from depressing the domestic price he said that in future Canada would have to export 70 per cent. of its cheese, 50 per cent. of its apples, 50 per cent. of its wheat and all surplus canned and boxed food.

Additionally, it should produce enough hogs to be able to sell 50 per cent. to Great Britain if agriculturalists in the Dominion were to be prosperous.

The only two markets Mr. Gardiner said he knew of where these surpluses could be sold were the United States and the United Kingdom. The former had in the past retained its markets for its own farmers and there was every indication that it would continue to do so.

Great Britain, on the other hand, was urging Canada to supply its market, and was prepared to accept for years in advance on quantity.

The present British government, he said, was carrying on a policy established in 1932 of guaranteeing returns to farmers in advance of seedling.

"In my opinion there is greater stability offered British farmers under that policy than is offered to farmers elsewhere. We, by tying the sale of our surpluses to their plan will not only stabilize the returns on the sale of our surpluses but also on the product sold at home."

BRITAIN ANXIOUS FOR SOVIET TRADE

MOSCOW.—Britain is keenly interested at this time in re-establishing trade with Russia and would be extremely pleased if negotiations could be opened before long, it was learned.

At the same time, British sources denied as "utter nonsense" American reports from Moscow that Premier Stalin has offered Foreign Secretary Bevin economic aid for the United Kingdom.

The American reports on economic aid for Britain, purported to be a leak from the Stalin-Bevin interview in the Kremlin last week, caused a big stir here but a high British source said no request for aid has been made and none has been offered. Not a word has been disclosed officially here about the subjects discussed at the meeting.

Jack Miner National Wild Life Week

A Bill to make the week of April 10th, each year, known as the Jack Miner National Wild Life Week has been introduced in the House of Commons, Ottawa.

April 10th, was the birthday date of the late Jack Miner. It is the season of the year when the birds are returning to Canada so it is appropriate to name it the Jack Miner Wild Life Week. It is not meant to be a holiday season, but a period during which school children will study the value of Bird Life and its conservation and a day when service clubs might sponsor bird house building campaigns etc., it would be a living tribute to the late "Uncle Jack" and at the same time the citizens would benefit from the results at no cost to the country.

The bill has been introduced by Hon. John R. MacNeill, M.P., Conservative and seconded by Mr. E. J. Bradette, Liberal and has the unanimous support of Hon. John Bracken, M.P., and the Conservative party; Hon. Solon Low, M.P., and the Social Crediters, and Hon. Mr. M. J. Coldwell, M.P., and the C.C.F. party.

Editor's suggestion.—Any reader interested in seeing this bill put through can help by writing or wiring the local member of parliament. The debate will likely take place April 16, 17, 18, right after the Parliamentary recess.)

Price Ceilings Lifted From Long List Of Goods And Services

—Basic Necessities Controlled

OTTAWA.—The government lifted the price lid on roughly one-third of the goods and services still under control and expressed the hope that the move would bring prices "smoothly" to the levels which now are appropriate.

As the house was debating the main bill to continue war-imposed controls, Finance Minister, Abbott announced to the commons the fourth major step in the government's de-control program, a step which extensively lifts the controlled list.

This latest move in the direction of full decontrol, the fourth over the last year, becomes effective immediately.

In general, it removes these goods from the list of goods and services still under price ceilings:

1. All motor vehicles, all soft drinks, all coal, coke, charcoal and fuelwood and all footwear.
2. Leather itself, as well as hides, remain under control.
3. Foods such as turkey, ducks and geese in live or dressed form.
4. Certain non-standard kinds of sausage and some canned and cooked meats.

3. All types of candy and confectionery and cocoa beans and their derivatives and beverage preparations made from cocoa.

4. Wool in all its forms, whether in yarn, fabric or clothing.

5. Household equipment such as cooking ranges, refrigerators of all kinds, domestic washing machines, domestic sewing machines and plumbing and sanitary equipment.

6. All chemicals, and plastics, end products in the paper and paper products field, many containers and packing materials and a lengthy list of construction products.

Mr. Abbott said the list of goods and services which remained under control covered many of the basic necessities of life in food, clothing and shelter.

Referring specifically to rentals, Mr. Abbott said "acute" difficulties remained and these restrictions "must" be continued.

CANADA STILL HAS TIN CAN SHORTAGE

OTTAWA.—The shortage of tin cans in Canada is still "critical," the prices board said, announcing continuation of the conservation order for metal containers.

General effect of the order, the board said, will be to continue priority for seasonal and perishable fruit and vegetable packs, fish and meat products and certain essential chemicals.

Most canned fruits and vegetables should continue in adequate supply, although supplies of many less essential products will be limited as a result of the shortage of tin and sheet steel for the manufacture of cans.

RESTORING PORTS MOSCOW—The Soviet ministry of merchant shipping has approved a plan to develop Russian merchant shipping this year.

Black Sea and Baltic ports and a number of important shipyards are to be restored and developed and a larger freight tonnage handled.

"should the winter-kill prove to be of serious extent and the current wet weather further delay spring seeding," the bureau said in its monthly review of the world wheat outlook, "there may be ample grounds for assuming another year of shortages in affected countries."

"Over and above the weather factors, too, it is unlikely that all deficits of draught power, labor, suitable seed and fertilizers can be made good within the next year or two, and any lack of these items is certain to have a negative effect upon production."

"In India, a moderately good wheat crop now is being harvested, but some imports will still be required."

The report said there were no indications yet that Australia and the Argentine will seed increased acreages of wheat and it was too early to venture any estimate as to probable 1947 yields in these countries. In Canada, soil moisture conditions in the spring wheat areas were reported good but here, too, it was much too early to hazard a production estimate.

"The only plausible assumption at this stage, and this is also true of Australia and the Argentine, is that the average acreage will prevail."

SEEDING GOVERNS DELIVERY QUOTAS

OTTAWA.—Trading Minister MacKinnon announced in the commons that until further notice seasonal delivery quotas necessary for wheat and other grains will be based on seeded acreage rather than the authorized acreage procedure adopted in 1941.

Wheat authorities outside the house said their interpretation of the new method indicated it would make little difference to farmers but would greatly facilitate administration.

END OF JAPAN'S HOUSE OF PEERS

TOKYO.—Japan's house of peers has formally died after a half-century of aristocratic approval of Japanese imperialism. Adjournment of the 82nd regular diet session—last under the old 19th century constitution—ended the life of the house of peers.

Under the new constitution, effective May 3, it will be replaced by a house of councillors whose 300 members will be elected April 20.

sausage and some canned and cooked meats.

3. All types of candy and confectionery and cocoa beans and their derivatives and beverage preparations made from cocoa.

4. Wool in all its forms, whether in yarn, fabric or clothing.

5. Household equipment such as cooking ranges, refrigerators of all kinds, domestic washing machines, domestic sewing machines and plumbing and sanitary equipment.

6. All chemicals, and plastics, end products in the paper and paper products field, many containers and packing materials and a lengthy list of construction products.

Mr. Abbott said the list of goods and services which remained under control covered many of the basic necessities of life in food, clothing and shelter.

Referring specifically to rentals, Mr. Abbott said "acute" difficulties remained and these restrictions "must" be continued.

CO-ORDINATION OF ARMED SERVICES

OTTAWA.—A further step in co-ordination of Canada's armed services was announced with the approval of a plan to pool the transport resources of the navy, army and air force.

Under the plan, announced by defence headquarters, the army will assume responsibility for the procurement, storage and major repair of vehicles and mobile engineering equipment. Each service will, in most cases, provide its own drivers and carry out maintenance and minor repairs of its vehicles.

UNITED STATES STILL CONTINUE SUGAR CONTROLS

WASHINGTON.—The senate completed action on compromise legislation continuing sugar allocation and price control until next Oct. 31. The measure now goes to the White House.

The controls would have expired if congress had not acted. The house of representatives earlier had approved the measure.

DIPLOMATIC POST—Kenneth Alfred Green, Ottawa industrialist, who has been appointed Canadian high commissioner to Australia, succeeding Mr. Justice T. C. Davis, recently appointed Canadian ambassador to China.

This Little Pig Is A Tough Little Pig

THETIS ISLAND, B.C.—Farmer Thomas Boyle's little pig is recovering from his sojourn into the wild blue yonder.

Boyle was attending to his chores when he noticed a bald-headed eagle just clearing a 150-foot tree with the little porker firmly attached to its undercarriage.

A hastily-fired shot failed to hit the bird, but it did frighten the eager eagle into dropping the piglet.

The pig bounced six feet into the air when it hit, then—yow!—it got up and slowly walked away—unhurt.

PLAN TO ASSIST BRITISH FARMERS

LONDON.—The Daily Telegraph said the British ministry of agriculture had worked out a three-point plan to make good the devastation of floods in Britain, featuring interest-free loans and compensation to farmers, special fertilizer supplies and alternative cropping plans and an appeal for more workers on the land.

The paper said arrangements would be made for night plowing to bring land back into cultivation.

Discussion On Control Bill May Be Shortened

OTTAWA.—The possibility has arisen that the government might have to apply the rarely-used procedure of "closure"—the automatic cutting-off of a debate—to end the long discussion now brewing in the commons over the administration's omnibus control bill.

By this method, the government is enabled to bring a debate to an end within 48 hours after closure is applied.

Parliamentary sources stressed that if the government used closure it would be done only as a last resort if the debate appeared to be crowding the May 15 deadline for the expiration of the Emergency Transition Powers act, under which the wartime controls now are being continued.

The use of closure would save the government the necessity of asking parliament for another extension of the Emergency Powers act, a request which government spokesmen already have said they wish to avoid.

The act originally was to have expired Saturday but was extended to May 15.

Developments in the chamber indicate the control debate will be long and bitter and may easily extend to May 15 and possibly beyond. Thus far, the legislation has got only as far as the resolution stage and has been debated heavily every step of the way through that phase of its passage.

PRECIPITATION IN THREE PRAIRIE PROVINCES GOOD

(By The Canadian Press)

Autumn rains coupled with unprecedented winter snowfalls have combined to form an advance moist bulwark against dusty drought, western Canada's grain and stock men's bene, precipitation statistics show.

The department of transport, meteorological division, reports precipitation throughout all major grain areas of the west far in excess of last year. During the period Aug. 1 to Feb. 28, precipitation in Alberta showed a 50 per cent. increase above normal. The increase in Saskatchewan was 40 per cent. and in Manitoba 16 per cent.

Twice the normal fall was registered in southern Alberta during the seven-month period while southeast Saskatchewan marked up a 60 per cent. increase. Northwest in southern of the latter province received a 35 per cent. boost. In north and central Alberta and southwest Saskatchewan, the increase was 25 per cent. above normal peak was reached.

Smallest departures from former averages occurred in Manitoba with western sections receiving 20 per cent. more and eastern areas slightly over 10 per cent.

Severe snow in Alberta during November, with somewhat lighter falls across southeast Alberta and southwest Saskatchewan, brought several record precipitation totals.

Four times the usual amount fell in southern Alberta, and two to three times the normal in central Alberta and southern Saskatchewan. Smaller increases ranging from 20 to 60 per cent. were registered in northern areas of Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Record-breaking snow storms during December, January and February greatly boosted averages in southern sections of the grain region. Jumps of 50 to 80 per cent. occurred in north and south Alberta and north and southeast Saskatchewan. The three months registered 30 to 40 per cent. leaps in central Alberta and western Manitoba.

WHALING FLEET JUNKED AT COAST

VICTORIA.—Victoria's once famous whaling fleet was destined for the junk yard following the auction sale of the five remaining vessels of the bankrupt Consolidated Whaling Corp. Ltd. here.

The Norwegian-built ships brought $1,365 from three bidders.

The ships were built 40 years ago and were originally valued at $50,000. Two of the vessels did not even leave the wharves and were immediately broken up into scrap.

Max Lohrbrunner, representing the Deep Sea Fishing Co., said he might use his as a fishing station.

The five whalers were brought around the horn from Norway 40 years ago and for many years did extensive whaling off the British Columbia coast.

"DUST BOWL" BECOMES RAGING TORRENT, FIVE DIE—Floods in Western Canada have taken five lives, and the usually dry southern Alberta, the southern route of the Trans-Canada highway at Barnwell, 30 miles from Lethbridge, became a raging river, submerging fields and forcing families to flee. When the water hit the C.P.R. line, 100 feet of track were washed out. Here torrent rages through railway line.

PEACE DEFENDS ON INDIANS, NOT BRITISH, IS VIEW OF MUSLIM LEADER JINNAH — Hopes for peace and unity in India now depend largely on the Indians. In the British view, M. A. Jinnah, Indian Muslim leader, left, agrees and has tried to stop recent Hindu-Muslim violence. Sir Stafford Cripps, right, largely responsible for Britain's independence plan for India, now seeks revision of empire trade as political relations change.

Good Roads MEAN MILLIONS To Alberta

The tourist trade is estimated to have brought nine and a half million dollars to Alberta in 1946; about one and a half times the Provincial expenditure on roads ($6,605,950 est.) for the year.

This tourist income can be multiplied as soon as we provide the kind of all-weather highway system that makes tourist travel easy and pleasant. And we need such roads for our own use and in the interests of our own progress.

The Alberta Government is to be commended on its recently announced outline of a $9,500,000 highway program for 1947. If this program is carried out and repeated over a period of years, we will have roads worthy of Alberta and worth a great deal more than their cost to us.

CULPABLE NEGLECT

Only those who do nothing about it, should feel shame at being sick, according to National Health authorities. Ottawa public health experts point out that illness is nothing to be ashamed of, but neglect to take advantage of facilities for diagnosis and treatment of an ailment is culpable. It is sheer carelessness, which endangers not only the victim of the illness, but all contacts.

Comments on EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Some of us were talking the other night about all the money that's needed to keep up progress in Canada.

"Who's going to pay for all this progress?" one of my friends wanted to know.

Jack Henderson answered that one, and hit the nail right on the head.

"Progress either pays for itself and grows into more progress, or it isn't progress at all," he said. "The money to pay for present and future improvements should come from successful planning in the past."

That reminded me of how for each Canadian man, woman and child there's about $300 of life insurance money invested, in thousands of private and public enterprises. It's creating jobs which lead to more jobs (and that's real progress) while it's waiting to be paid out on policies bought in the past by people who planned for progress.

Life insurance is a business built for everybody, a great enterprise which protects the future of more than four million policyholders and their loved ones. Life Insurance offers a systematic and easy way to save. Consult an authorized agent about a plan best suited to your requirements.
